The IP Law Center of the Golden Gate University School of Law (San Francisco, CA) is pleased to announce its inaugural new electronic publication of The IP Law Book Review.

The IP Law Book Review aims to become a premiere journal of reviews of current books focusing on IP law and policy--primarily scholarly and academic press books, but also high-quality, practice-oriented books. Reviews are authored by leading law professors and lawyers around the country. One goal for this new publication is to provide a forum for academics and practitioners to keep abreast of the many books devoted to IP issues in an easy-to-read and accessible format--which is particularly important in an era where traditional law reviews are decreasing space devoted to book reviews.

The IP Law Book Review is part of a larger new website the GGU IP Law Center has launched at <http://gguiplc.com>. The new site also features an IP Buzz Blog by founding IP Program Director, Professor Marc Greenberg, at <http://ipbuzz.blogspot.com>.
